Title:

Practice Direction
Gowning Policy for Counsel

Summary:

This Practice Direction sets out the court's policy for gowning by counsel.

Direction:

Unless the presiding judge otherwise directs, counsel is required to gown for the following appearances before the court:

- a. all criminal and quasi-criminal proceedings except "fix dates" and pre-trial conferences
- b. civil trials and family law trials with the exception of summary trials
- c. appeals from the Provincial Court.
